History

Shane Mendel

- The Alutiiq people are the indigenous people of the Kodiak Island Archipelago. They have inhabited their traditional lands for more than 7,500 years. Afognak Native Corporation represents over 1,000 Native Shareholders, who are descended specifically from the Village of Afognak, on Afognak Island, in the northern part of the Archipelago.

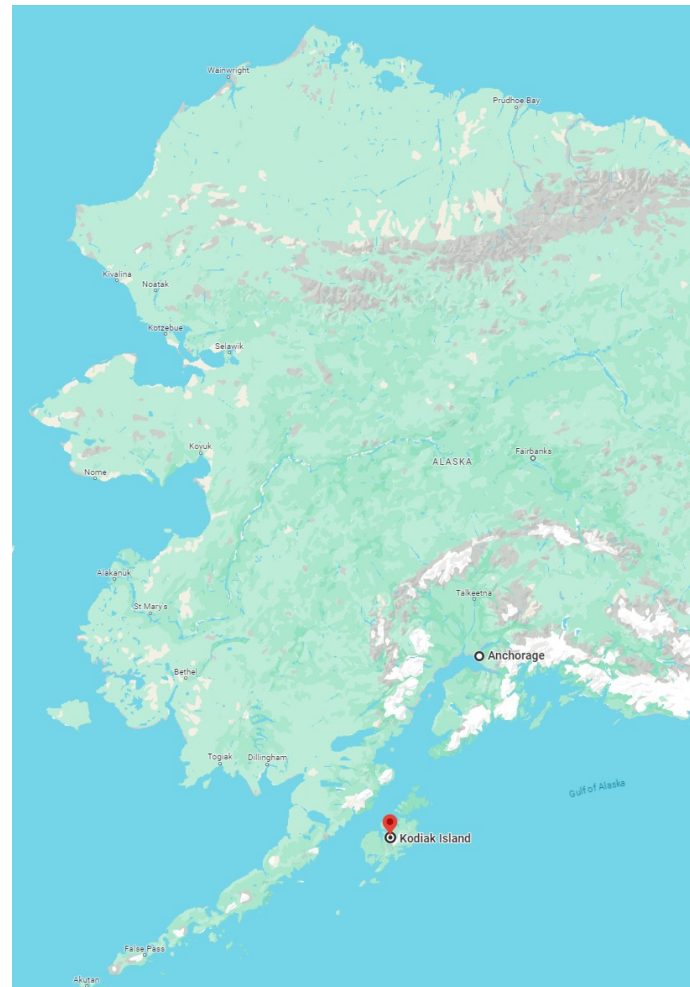

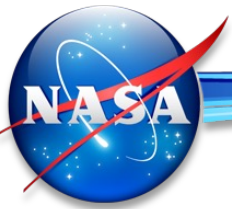

History

Shane Mendel

- The Kodiak Archipelago is located 252 air miles south of Anchorage in the Gulf of Alaska.

History

Shane Mendel

- The Alutiiq people traditionally carved petroglyphs into rocks all over the Kodiak Archipelago. These petroglyphs are the oldest representations of the Alutiiq culture and some of them have become the company logos of Afognak Native Corporation and Alutiiq, LLC.

History

Shane Mendel

- Population estimated to have peaked at 15,000 - 18,500 before Russian subjugation.
- 1867 US purchases Alaska from Russia
- January 3, 1959 Alaska becomes 49th state.
- March 27, 1964, one of the largest natural disasters in U.S. history, the “Good Friday” earthquake and tsunami, destroyed the Alutiiq people’s traditional home of Afognak. Many chose to relocate and build a new village on Kodiak Island. Their new village was named Port Lions after the philanthropic Kodiak Island Lions Club that helped build their community.

- Afognak Native Corporation

- Afognak Native Corporation (Afognak) is an Alaska Native Corporation (ANC) formed under the 1971 Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA) and through the 1977 merger of two Alaska Native village corporations: Natives of Afognak, Inc. and Port Lions Native Corporation.
- Afognak represents and serves over a 1,000 Shareholders who are descended from the Village of Afognak. As an ANC, Afognak is committed to meeting its economic, social, and cultural obligations to its Shareholders. By providing benefits to Shareholders, the Shareholders are empowered and the culture and heritage of the Alutiiq people is preserved.

- Afognak's Subsidiaries

- Afognak Native Corporation has three subsidiary companies which perform work and/or have subsidiary companies of their own.
 - Afognak Commercial Group, LLC
 - pursues commercial contracts. ACG performs work through several subsidiary companies, including LSUN, which operates the Brown Jug stores throughout Alaska.
 - Alutiiq Professional Consulting, LLC
 - supplies intercompany Strategic Planning, Business Development, Bid & Proposal, Contracts & Procurement, and other Business Management Consulting Services to Alutiiq, LLC and its various subsidiaries.
 - Alutiiq, LLC
 - a wholly owned subsidiary of Afognak Native Corporation. Alutiiq has established over 20 subsidiaries with various capabilities to provide top-quality services and solutions in the federal markets.
